101st C-Scow Inland Championship

5 days away!

Huse, Melges, Burdick... The names that grace the Warren-Carpenter-Freytag Trophy for winning the ILYA C-Scow Annual Championship are a virtual who's who of scow sailing. 100 years of history and counting...

The 101st ILYA C-Scow Annual Championship gets underway this weekend. Its the season's second and final Major. In many ways still the Granddaddy of Them All... This year's regatta will be no different. There may not be a brand new C-Scow raffled off, but there is still that Red C to be won. The mark on your sail that will forever list you as a past Champion.

Last year brought a new Champion into the fold, Sam Rogers. Sam is back sailing with Jamie Kimball looking to repeat, but a strong fleet made up of other past Inland and National Champions stands in their way.

There is still time to get yourself to Oshkosh and participate in this regatta. If you have any questions email the Oshkosh C fleet contact Ed Bowen. EBowen@alexanderbishop.com

If your schedule won't allow you to be in Oshkosh this weekend C World Online will do its best to keep you informed. Daily emails with results and regatta reports will be available (as long as the Park Plaza Hotel has Wi-Fi).
