No Excuses not to attend the 2009 Nationals

Hey! I think our problems may just be solved. Ed McMahon and the Publishers Clearing House Sweepstakes. Think I just won a million bucks. Yeah, Irwin R. Fletcher you choose. Woo-wee! Oh, boy... I lost. (Watch the movie if you do not understand) Yeah. Sorry we still got problems....But you could help by stop procrastinating and send your registration in as you know you want to attend this great event!

Ok, I get it as I was once a full time C boater for a few years or so and a few times would wait until the last minute to register. But I have pointed out before that there are no excuses not to attend this year's event so you might as well register now! There are so many C boaters from several lakes that have not yet registered that we need to make the final push to get everyone to register now! Where are all the Cedar and Nagawicka boats to name a few that race every weekend and should be attending the Nationals that are so close to your home! Remember you cannot become a National Champion unless you sail in the event. Speaking of National Champions I did not see the names of former National Champions Burdick or Frentzel registered yet? It must be lost in the mail???

We are less than two weeks away from the event and let me see we have been able to find housing for people who needed it (And by the way, it is free. I don't know why Mr. Krech keeps thinking we are charging people?), we have found crews for those needing a rock star and we have put together an unbelievable event for everyone to have a great time including hanging out with the Bacardi Girls! Hmm... Did I forget to mention they will be at the Point Party Friday night???

So with that said let's make the final push because we currently have only 30 boats pre-registered. It is time to "phone a friend" to get everyone to this event! I have just talked with the PYC staff and they have informed me that they are ready for all C Boaters, even the rather loud skipper of the M-20!

Now onto that Mr. Krech who seems to not read very well! I stated that we would have the next round of this bantering at the PYC so only those who care to hear anymore of this would be able to! But you seem to be really pushing for attendance at your event which is great! But I have a better way for you to do this! Since you did not attend the ILYA Invite last year you should get everyone you can to attend the Nationals at Pewaukee and we will allow you the time to stand high above and speak with every C boater in person and personally invite them to your event! Nothing like a little in person peer pressure! And please note again, Mr. Krech, that the drink you love so much is called the "Fast Buck" not fast bucks! He donated a lot of money to rename the drink!

Now as far as calling me out! I guess because you, as the "Vice President" of the NCSSA, feel that you can do this? I cannot remember the last time we sailed against each other but it has been at least 3-4 years. I remember the 2005 Nationals but unsure if that was the last time? So even though it was a nice try to call me out I would attend if certain conditions were to be met.

- 1) Free Boat and Sails of a fine C scow that is newer than 2004.
- 2) Free Housing at the Jewett compound.
- 3) Guarantee that my normal and awesome first crew would be able to sail.
- 4) More than TWO Minnetonka boats at the Nationals on Pewaukee! (Get Mr. Allen down here to sail if he wants to talk with me so badly???)
- 5) And the final request would be a minimum of 50 boats pre-registered at both the Nationals and the Invite!

So let me know how you are coming with my demands as ALL MUST BE MET for me to attend your event! Go luck young man; let's see how good you REALLY are?

And on a final note. Party at the Pewaukee Lake residence of the Krech's (Underhill's) on Thursday night of the Nationals! It sure sounds good!

Still spreading the good news!
Irwin R. Fletcher

It's time to get your registration in. There are only two more days before the price goes up. Don't wait until the regatta to sign up. The PYC put together a package that includes Registration, 3 daily Lunches, and 3 Saturday Dinners for $150 if you register by June 10th. Details can be found at cscow.org.

Hey Junior Sailors - Did you know that you can attend the 2009 C-Scow National Championship for FREE?!?! That's right; FREE. If you are 25 and under, and as long as you pre-register for the regatta, the NCSSA will pay for your registration fee. You're on your own when it comes to food, fun and social, but the PYC has a great price for that too - $75 covers your entire team with lunches and Saturday dinner. Make sure you sign up today and don't miss out on this great opportunity!
